LEARNING BUDDIES

Over the next week we begin the first stage of building our classes for 2014, with every student tracing their hand and identifying their learning buddies on each finger for next year. In the past we may have referred to students selecting their friendship groups for their new classes, however we feel that it is important to extend the parameters around this process by encouraging students to not only consider those students that they feel connected to socially, but to also consider those students who support them well as learners within the classroom. As part of our grade placement policy, we will aim to ensure that every student is placed with at least one of their learning buddies in 2014. In support of this process, you may wish to discuss this at home with your child/ren, with ‘learning’ being the central focus of this discussion.

INDIGENOUS LITERACY PROJECT

Many of our classes recently visited the Williamstown Library as part of the Indigenous Literacy Project and participated in a ‘book swap’. We had a terrific response to this project and $1373.95 was raised for this cause. Sincere thanks to all families who sent along old books to school and for providing children with gold coin donations to be made at the library on the day. A big thank you also to Ana Milnes (Year 4 teacher) who coordinated our school’s involvement in this project.

NEW FENCING – STORAGE SHED

New chain mesh fencing has been erected over the last week in the far corner of the school yard adjacent to the staff car park. Students will no longer be able to have access to this section of the school. In 2014, we aim to erect a large storage shed in this area, which will accommodate our excess furniture & equipment as well as the school’s maintenance & gardening equipment. Once this has been erected, we will then be able to demolish the existing ‘shelter shed’ that sits adjacent to the Junior Learning Centre.

PREP INFORMATION EVENING

We look forward to hosting all of our 2014 Prep parents next Tuesday night for our annual Prep Information Evening at 7.00pm in the Junior Learning Centre. This is the next important stage in ensuring a smooth and seamless transition for all of new prep students next year. In addition to some brief presentations from staff and parents, the focus of the evening will be a presentation from Kay Margetts (Melbourne University), who will provide some detailed tips for supporting children as they transition from kindergartens and early learning.
centres to mainstream schooling. We hope all of our prospective 2014 prep parents will be able to make this evening.

Xmas Hampers

Over the next few weeks, each class will be collecting new donated items in order to make up some wonderful Xmas hampers. A flyer is enclosed within this newsletter detailing the items that can be donated for these hampers. Once the hampers have been put together, we will then distribute raffle tickets for sale to the community. Please watch for further details over the next couple of weeks, and we look forward to your support with this final fundraiser of the year.

Movember

Many of the male teachers are currently sporting a moustache (including myself) in support of raising awareness around men's health issues. In support of this fundraiser, one lucky student has the opportunity to shave off my moustache at the end, ‘Movember Market’ on Friday 29th November at lunchtime. Any children who wish to be considered for this undertaking just need to drop an envelope at the office with their name on the front and a donation inside. We will open the envelopes the day before the “shave off,” and the student with the largest donation will win the chance to shave off my moustache! I have my fingers crossed that the winner has a steady hand and a kind heart!

Enjoy your Week
Jim Cahill—Principal

Movember is a special time of year, when men's health takes centre stage. The time of year where the moustache comes out from hibernation, and we wear it with pride to support a good cause. Yes it’s a bit of fun, and often Movember is seen just as a bit of a laugh, but beneath the fun lies a meaningful initiative. Movember raises not only money to aid the research and treatment of prostate and testicular cancer, but also raises awareness of the mental and physical battles that males often face, but not acknowledge.

This year at Williamstown North, we are calling out to all Fathers, Grandfathers and Uncles in the school community to join the teachers in the Willy North Mo’s team.

Follow this link to join the Willy North Mo’s - http://au.movember.com/team/1076753

Together let’s make a positive impact on the future health of your sons, grandsons and nephews!

Congratulations!

Our class, Year 4M worked hard on the posters around the school for the Indigenous Literacy Foundation. With all the Willy North help we filled 7 big boxes of BOOKS!

On the 8th November we walked over to Williamstown library with our own gold coin donation to donate to the foundation and buy a book. The library had all the books set out to choose from. We donated our coin and chose a book. There were lots of books for kids.

The foundation raised $1,375.95!

Good job, Willy North!

Raising Kids To Thrive!

“If we are to prepare children adequately for the future then parents need to take a step back and provide an environment that develops their confidence, their character and their resilience.”

Currently there’s a great deal of confusion about the best way to raise kids. The perception that the world is a dangerous place is causing us to coddle or over-protect our children. We have a greater propensity than our own parents did to satisfy our children’s material demands, so we run the risk of raising an indulged generation.

Many children grow up with an exaggerated sense of entitlement to rights, freedoms and goods, which are often way beyond their means or grasp. In wanting what’s best for kids we do run the risk of doing too much for them, giving them too much and also removing all risk from their environment.

If we are to prepare children adequately for the future then parents need to take a step back and provide an environment that develops their confidence, their character and their resilience.

It is these three qualities that will enhance children’s prospects of future success in all areas of life, including their relationships, their family and their future working lives.

The development of one impacts on the others. When kids develop a greater sense of self-confidence they usually behave better and they are more likely to bounce back from setbacks, particularly social injustices.

Confidence

Confidence is about taking your rightful place in the world and grabbing your rightful space. It is about making the most of the opportunities presented to you. Confident kids take more learning risks and are likely to challenge themselves more than kids who are low on confidence. They are less likely to place limits on themselves or their achievements. Confidence is so crucial today as so many kids are anxious and fear failure.

Character

Character refers to the attitudes and behaviours a child develops that maximise his or her success. Personality may attract initial attention but it won’t guarantee success. Character more than likely will. Character has greater substance and depth. The development of depth of character in children is at the heart of effective child-rearing. Character is about doing what’s right, not what’s easy!

Resilience

Children need to be resilient. They need to be able to bounce back from life’s bigger and smaller setbacks. They need to experience the gamut of emotions that come with loss, failure, disappointment and other childhood hardships, frustrations and difficulties they routinely face so they learn - they can cope when life doesn’t go their way. Resilience is linked with good mental health habits and also with a child’s success.

These three qualities don’t develop in a vacuum. They may develop by accident but I wouldn’t count on it. They best develop in an environment where parents purposefully adopt principles and techniques that promote them.

Using large family principles is at the heart of the thriving way of parenting. It’s not a return to the past. Rather it’s recognition that if we are to prepare our children adequately for the future, then we need to step back and provide an environment that develops their confidence, their character and their resilience. These qualities will enhance children’s prospects of success in all areas of life in this constantly changing world.

Parents can find out more about the Thriving Way of parenting in my new book “Thriving! Raising exceptional kids with confidence, character and resilience.” It’s available at www.parentingideas.com.au

School Banking
School banking day is Wednesday. Don’t forget to send in your child’s bank book.

Student Safety
Please take the time to regularly remind your child/ren about safety, especially when going to and from school. Here are the important points to mention:

- Do not to talk to strangers and never accept a ride from a stranger, or accept lollies or gifts from a stranger.
- Immediately report any issue or problem you may have when going to or from school, to your mum and dad, or to your teacher, the Principal, Assistant Principal or office staff.
- Always get permission from mum or dad before going to play with a friend after school and always let mum and dad know where you will be and what time you will be home.

We advise that, wherever possible, children should travel to or from school with an adult or with their friends, rather than travel alone.

Early Release
All children collected from school before 3.30pm must be signed out at the Office. Parents will be handed an ‘Early Release Pass’ to hand to the supervising teacher. If a child is signed out at Recess or Lunch time, the Office staff will call the child to the Office and then ensure the Early Release Pass is given to the supervising teacher.

Bikes & Scooters
Many children ride bikes and scooters to school each day. All bikes and scooters must be locked up in either the Bike or Scooter Enclosure to prevent theft. Please ensure your child has a chain and a lock. All children who ride a bike or scooter must wear a helmet which is a requirement by the Government. The school regularly reminds all children about wearing helmets for their safety. All bikes, scooters, skateboards, ribtics and helmets must be labelled, with your child’s name and class. Children are reminded they must walk their bike, scooter, skateboard or ribtic to and from the school gates. No bikes are to be brought through the school buildings and we request, where possible, that Scooters are also not walked through the building.

Working With Children Checks
As from the 1st July 2013 the process for applying for a Working With Children Check has changed. Due to the continual changes to the forms they are no longer available at School or the Post Office. The only way to apply for a Working With Children Check is online. These forms are available at http://www.workingwithchildren.vic.gov.au

Reminding Parents, if you wish to assist in the Canteen, Fresh Fruit Friday, Sport, Swimming, Excursions or Camps, you must have a current Working With Children Check. If you have a current WWCC and have not provided a copy to the office, please bring your WWCC to the school office, where a copy will be placed on file. Working With Children Checks remain valid for 5 years.
"I like the fact that we had so much freedom because we could just let our imaginations go wild with the music. We could do anything with any note combination and use it to blend into one melody."

Quote by Alex M, Year 6C, Performing Arts student at Willy North.

Why do we teach the arts in schools?

This sophisticated response, from a Year 6 student, justifies why arts education is centrally important: to teach vital modes of seeing, imagining, inventing and thinking. The student, like others in Years 5 and 6, embarked on an ensemble music-making project that spanned across a semester. They worked collaboratively to create an original piece of music and used a variety of musical instruments—Orff instruments like the xylophones, marimbas, piano, keyboards, guitars and a range of percussion instruments. From the onset, a clear learning destination was established, students were involved in the planning of a criteria that included musical elements, techniques, performance and critical thinking skills. Through the lens of identifying quality, they watched videos, sessions were recorded to ensure that students could revise and receive descriptive feedback. Students were constantly asked, “What’s working, what’s not and what’s next.” The questions enabled them to reflect critically on their learning.

Students worked in E minor, inventing melodies through exploring rhythmic ideas from a theme or topic. Each student played his/her own rhythms and melody. Students created another section that used E minor and G major chords. The progression from the A section to the B section was worked on, and dynamics were added—begin slowly and build to an extraordinary crescendo, or fade out with a graceful decrescendo. Students were encouraged to explore levels of contrast between the sections. Timing was important, especially, when performers are playing as an ensemble and, not least, was their ability to cooperate in groups as they shaped their music. Students were constantly urged to move beyond technical skill or their inhibitions to create music rich in emotion.

In summary, the project embodied student centred learning. The students were encouraged to innovate through exploration, take risks, and just play around and see what they can create. As the project winds up, each group has created an original and nuanced piece of music. “We made our own piece of music.” stated one student. “It was so much fun,” the student added. To celebrate their success, a selection of their work will be shown at the up-coming Concert.

The arts-based project was full of unexpected discoveries. It is these serendipitous moments that inspire learners to envisage solutions, and perhaps, come up with new answers needed most for the future.

I am Fran McCormick, catch you next time.

CRE Team Leaders—WNPS 2013
In Year 3L for National Recycling Week, we made paper and I thought how are we going to make that? But then Dianna gave us a Procedure text to show how we were going to make it.

We used: Torn newspapers, Paper Recycling Mini Factory (bought from Op Shop), cleaning cloths (2)

What did we do?

We tore the newspapers and soaked them overnight in boiling water. Then the next day we got handfuls of the soaked newspaper and put it in the blender. After that we put the pulp in a tray and we could also put some food colouring in. We chose our shape and let it dry for a night or two.

I enjoyed putting my hands in the pulp and the newspaper would stick to my hands. My group was absolutely fun and I was with Zac and Matilda. I enjoyed making it. I would like to thank you Dianna for buying the factory for us as it was so much fun. I think Dianna got it from the Op Shop. You do not know what you can find in the Op Shop! Now I am going to go home and some more newspaper. You can make lots of it and then you can make: Cards, Note pads, Books, Lots more things.

I felt happy because I was recycling newspaper for the first time. The class enjoyed making paper. The class was busy and loud.

REMEMBER RECYCLING IS FUN AND GREAT for THE Environment!

By Ella Year 3L

This week Year 3L made paper with a mini paper recycling factory. We tore little pieces of newspaper and put them in a tub. Next we filled the tub with hot water and left it to soak overnight. In the morning we put the wet newspaper in the Manual blender for two minutes. We opened the lid and put 3 handfuls of the pulp into another tub that was filled 1/2 with water. We put two drops of food colouring and put the pulp in the tub. We chose our shape and scooped the pulp from the tub and on to the shape. We squeezed out water and let it dry by the heater over the weekend.

On Monday we checked our paper and it was bone dry. It felt hard and thin and had little bits of color. We recycled newspaper and made paper. I felt really excited when we made the paper and when it was my group's turn it was a really good feeling and putting my hands in the pulp. It felt gooey and cool because the water was freezing. I could use my circle as a decoration for Christmas.

Important Changes to School Banking Reward Redemption

Dollarmites Moneybox Rewards will no longer be available in 2014.

The Commonwealth Bank has removed the rule of only one moneybox per student per year for 2013. A student can redeem more than one moneybox this year if they have saved 10 tokens.

In 2014 the Commonwealth Bank will be introducing two new reward items for the students to choose from each term. These new items offer students a wider selection of items to redeem from.

The maximum tokens that can be carried over into 2014 is nine (9).

Any students currently holding 10 or more tokens must redeem them for their chosen reward before the end of Term 4, 2013.

All items from 2013 are still available as well as a limited number of USB sticks from 2012. Please complete a rewards card for 2013 rewards to avoid missing out on items or losing tokens at the end of 2013.
